LUANNE CHERNEY

I began my golf life at age 11 in Northern Michigan and it has been a way of life ever since. As a high school golfer, I had the good fortune to be assigned as a scorer in Arnold Palmer's group at the 1981 U.S. Senior Open held at Oakland Hills Country Club in Birmingham, Michigan (my home course). That experience directly impacted me and the course of my life in golf.

I attended the University of Michigan (Ann Arbor, Michigan) on an academic and athletic scholarship playing on the Women's Gold Team for four years. Upon graduation, I decided to pursue a career in professional golf, playing on the PGA's Futures Tour as well as multiple qualifying schools in pursuit of my dream of playing on the LPGA®. I was also a successful high school girls' golf coach, and my main focus was encouraging young women to understand that golf is an avenue for success in life beyond the classroom.

In 2001, I transitioned into the next phase of my golf career, working as a teaching professional at the Arnold Palmer Golf Academy at Bay Hill. I am proud to say that I have earned the designation of Class A LPGA Teacher. I have devoted my life to constantly educating myself so I can share my passion of golf with others.
