Winter Park Library saw tremendous growth in 2023. The growth was on the heels of a remarkably successful 2022, and we were cautiously optimistic of continued enthusiasm and support from the community as we began January 2023. When we were approached about additional hours and services, we were eager to capitalize on what we knew the public wanted. With generous support from the City, we aimed to expand to Sunday hours, broaden our services, and introduce new staff to the team, with the end results:

- Beginning February 25, the Library opens from 12-6pm on Sundays. The Polly Seymour New Leaf Bookstore will open from 2-5pm on Sundays as well.
- New staff include a Public Technology Assistant and an Archives Assistant, both ensuring our popular Winter Park History Center and Technology spaces will be fully accessible when we're open.
- An additional Public Services Librarian and Youth Services Librarian promise more robust, intentional curriculum offerings to entice Sunday visitors.
- A new Community Engagement Assistant mean an even more efficient response to room rental requests and marketing needs, respectively.

We look forward to a productive and rewarding 2024!
