Winter Park Library’s use and impact continue to trend upward. New staff in key positions began January 2, and they sprang into action to get trained for the Sunday, February 25 opening. Our Technology Assistant was ready to assist in the Recording Studio and Dream Room Lab and our Archival Assistant was eager to help people digitize their memories. An additional Public Services Librarian prepped curriculum and new Information Desk staff were ready to greet visitors that Sunday.

We began tracking Sunday figures to calculate the major indicators and are pleased with the numbers thus far. The number of classes offered each Sunday is averaging a total of two, taking into account that we are open from 12 – 6pm.
