

Regional Report

Office may be named for late tennis pro

WINTER PARK — Supporters of the late Nancy Corse Reed have asked the city to name the Winter Park Tennis Center office building in memory of the local tennis pro and coach who died in July at age 71. The City Commission on Monday will consider a request for a sign placed in the flower bed against the Azalea Lane office in the main courtyard. The requesting group will pay for the sign.

— Daphne Sashin