Solana Fine Art Presents: The Art of Fashion
An Inspired Collaboration of Fine Art and Fall Fashion
August 15 – September 27, 2025
Opening Reception: August 15, 5:30 – 7:30 PM

Winter Park, FL — Solana Fine Art invites the community to experience an extraordinary intersection of creativity and couture with its upcoming exhibition, The Art of Fashion, on view August 15 through September 27. This one-of-a-kind show pairs cutting-edge fine art with the latest fall fashion collections from Winter Park's most stylish boutiques — Tuni, Be On Park, and John Craig Clothier — and showcases an exclusive haute couture gown designed by Bernard Foong and Aref Zebian. Their creation will be accompanied by original artwork by Mr. Foong.

"This exhibition is a celebration of personal expression through both fashion and art," says Bob Jimenez, founder and gallerist of Solana Fine Art. "It's about how color, texture, form, and detail communicate something deeply individual. We're thrilled to collaborate with some of Winter Park's most iconic fashion houses to bring this vision to life."

The exhibition features stunning fashion-inspired works from four nationally recognized guest artists:

- Holly Irwin (Atlanta): Known for her ethereal figures and painterly expressions of femininity and fashion.
- Doug Powell (Oviedo): Acclaimed for his sculptural mosaic works using recycled computer keys.
- Cristiam Ramos (Orlando): Famed for his inventive use of nontraditional materials like denim and candy to create vivid portraits and pop art.
- Ben Van Beusekom (Orlando): Creates fantastical, couture-inspired sculptures from dazzling gemstones, beads and Swarovski crystals—transforming the unexpected into elegant, one-of-a-kind works of art.

Adding to the immersive experience, fashion installations throughout the gallery will showcase the fall collections from each participating boutique. These displays, set alongside the curated artwork, create a stylish synergy unlike anything previously shown in Central Florida.

"Art and fashion have long been synonymous with Winter Park, and we are thrilled Solana Fine Art is pairing the two in this incredible installation," says Alan Chambers, vice president of John Craig and Current; president of The Park Avenue District.

“At Be On Park, we believe in the timeless elegance of both fine jewelry and fine art,” says Emily Williams, owner of Be On Park. “This exhibition is such a beautiful way to show how style and self-expression cross mediums — and we’re honored to be part of something so creative and unique to Winter Park.”

Opening Night Reception

Join us for the exhibition’s opening reception on Friday, August 15, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Enjoy curated libations and sweet treats, meet the featured artists and designers, and be among the first to experience The Art of Fashion.

Admission is free and open to the public.
