Solana Fine Art Presents Flourish
Featuring Wyanne Thompson & Lorra Kurtz

March 20 – April 24, 2026

Opening Reception: March 20, 5:30 – 7:30 PM

Winter Park, FL — Solana Fine Art welcomes spring with Flourish, a vibrant new exhibition celebrating renewal, growth, and the creative energy that accompanies the changing season.

Featuring the work of Wyanne Thompson and Lorra Kurtz, the exhibition opens March 20, coinciding with the first day of the acclaimed Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival—offering visitors and collectors in town for the festival another opportunity to experience compelling contemporary art in the heart of Winter Park.

Flourish brings together two artists whose work reflects the emotional and visual awakening that spring inspires. Through bold color, expressive gesture, and immersive atmospheres, Thompson and Kurtz create a compelling dialogue about resilience, transformation, and the beauty of becoming.

Wyanne Thompson presents vibrant, layered works that radiate courage, joy, and emotional honesty. Her paintings pulse with bold color fields and spirited mark-making, giving form to resilience and the exhilaration of reclaiming one’s voice. Thompson’s work captures the feeling of rising—of blooming into possibility with confidence and energy.

In a beautiful counterpoint, Lorra Kurtz creates paintings defined by fluid movement, lush palettes, and dreamlike atmospheres. Guided by intuition, her compositions invite viewers into spaces where transformation unfolds gently yet profoundly. Kurtz’s paintings offer an introspective dimension to the exhibition, revealing the quiet poetry of growth and renewal.

Together, Thompson and Kurtz shape an exhibition filled with visual poetry—an exploration of change, optimism, and the beauty of becoming. Flourish embodies the spirit of spring: alive, hopeful, and ever-evolving.

“Spring naturally inspires reflection on growth and possibility, and this exhibition captures that spirit beautifully,” says Bob Jimenez, founder and gallerist of Solana Fine Art. “Wyanne and Lorra each approach the idea of flourishing in their own distinctive way—one bold and exuberant, the other intuitive and atmospheric. Together, their work reminds us that transformation can be both powerful and deeply personal.”

Opening Reception

Guests are invited to celebrate the exhibition during the opening reception on Friday, March 20, from 5:30 to 7:30 PM at Solana Fine Art. The event is free and open to the public.

Special Artist Demonstration

As a special part of the exhibition, Lorra Kurtz will present a live encaustic painting demonstration on Saturday, March 21, from 11:00 AM to 12:00 PM at the gallery. Encaustic is an ancient and captivating art form in which pigments are fused with heated beeswax and resin, creating luminous layers of texture and depth. Watching Kurtz work in this medium offers a rare opportunity to see the process unfold in real time as the wax is melted, fused, and shaped into richly layered surfaces.
